BOULANGER'S DEATH

What Effect it Will Have on the French Republic.

OPINIONS AT DIFFERENT PLACES.

In Paris it is regarded as a victory for the Republic and an acknowledged failure of the man who led the struggle for its overthrow. The Government will forbid a great display in Paris over his funeral.

PARIS, Oct. 2.—The suicide of Boulanger is recognized here distinctively as a victory for the republic, and an acknowledgment of failure by the man who led the struggle for its overthrow.

A Berlin dispatch says that while nothing is said that commits high officials to an expression on the subject, the news of the suicide evidently was not gratifying in government circles, it being looked upon as the disappearance of a man who had not exhausted his ability to injure France.

In St. Petersburg, on the other hand, the news was regarded as that of a French victory. It is believed that it will put an end to the Boulangerists as a separate and desperate faction, for the reason that they will have no one to look to as a leader.

Madame Boulanger, widow of General Boulanger, is residing at Versailles. On being informed of the tragical death of her husband, fainted. Since then she has been in a state of the deepest dejection, and apparently is overcome with grief.

In an interview with the Paris representative of the United Press, a chief of bureau in the war office expressed very clearly the views of the official military class on the subject of General Boulanger's suicide, and the proposition of the Patriotic league to accord the dead general a public funeral in the streets of Paris.

The chief said: "There is no Frenchman, of whatever party or faction, who does not honor the memory of Boulanger for his military services to France, and for the wounds he received in her defense. It is, however, no new thing for Frenchmen to fight bravely, and on very general principles, for the country, nor to receive, with more or less composure or philosophy, grievous bodily hurts in the same cause.

"There, however, with well-wishers of the country, admiration for the personality of the man must stop. I myself am, by instinct, training and service, a soldier, but I never have failed to deplore the wretched role enacted by Boulanger from the moment he, while head of this office, attempted to corrupt the constituencies, terrorize the chamber and prostitute the army, and all that he might advance his vulgar fortunes at the expense of the life, safety and perpetuation of the constitutional republic.

"He was charged with, tried and found guilty of conspiracy and treason. He fled from France before that trial begun, and the man who met the downfall of his personal ambition and the loss of his mistress and friends with suicide, was then not brave enough to confront a court of France with a defense of his honor, either as a man or a patriot.

"I have not one word to say about the dead general's private life. That is a matter not germane to the questions you ask me."

With regard to a possible attempt by the Patriotic league to have a public funeral in Paris, the official said: "There will be no great demonstrative funeral pageant for General Boulanger either here or elsewhere in France. Of that you may be certain. Nor do I believe that the Patriotic league, nor its monarchial or imperialist allies—if the latter longer exist—will attempt anything of the kind. The time for that sort of thing has passed. The republic will deal with the matter sensibly, patiently and firmly. It will seek to avoid offending the susceptibilities of Frenchmen, however misguided they may be; but it will not more submit to insult from the followers of the dead adventurer, than it would receive an affront from the most potent of living monarchs."

What England Thinks of It.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—The Times says of General Boulanger's suicide: "General Boulanger cleared the air of French politics. If the public is again menaced the danger will come from more upright and manly aspirants for power than Orléanist or Bonapartist intriguers who figure in the Couillises du Boulangeriste."

The News says: "Boulanger seems to die like Romeo, but he really dies like Balmaceda, a discredited adventurer. With his end surely there will be an end to the republic's worst trials. The older republics are at least as stable as the old monarchies, and much more stable than some of them. A pretender in the United States would be unthinkable, and after the Brussels event there is no reason why one should ever again become a serious conception in France."

The Sentinel says: "The collapse of General Boulanger is one of the most miserable and contemptible on record. He did his country a useful service in impressing distrust on adventurers like himself."

French Opinion.

PARIS, Oct. 2.—The Debats says of the death of General Boulanger: "Perhaps he thought to be a Caesar or a Napoleon, though he had none of their genius. Harsh words are needless. His miserable life ended in a death which, although miserable, was dramatic. In all likelihood the suicide was prompted by sincere feeling."

The Soleil says: "It was a strange destiny. After living like Vitellus to die like Werther. Yet what a splendid career Boulanger might have had as a simple soldier."

According to the Gaulois "Boulanger's death was his last blunder." La Liberté says: "The life of a man who could upset the republic, had he chosen to agitate France to an enormous degree, has ended like that of a hero of a romance or novel. He died alone, and far away from home."

La Patrie says: "The deed was like that of the hero of a novel, and not like that of a heroic soldier."

BOULANGER'S FUNERAL.

It Will Take Place in Brussels—His Last Letter.

BRUSSELS, Oct. 2.—It has just been announced that the funeral of General Boulanger will take place Saturday afternoon, Oct. 3. The outer casing of the coffin in which the body rests is, by the general's own desire, an exact reproduction of Mme. Bonnemain. At a private meeting of the dead general's friends, his political testament was read as follows.

This, my political testament, I desire published after my death. I shall kill myself tomorrow. I am convinced of the future of the party to which has been given my name. I cannot bear the frightful misfortune which befell me two and a half months ago. I have tried to get the better of it, but without success. I am persuaded that my followers so devoted and so numerous, will bear me no anger for disappearing on account of a sorrow so great that all work has become impossible. Let them remember the maxim, "Uno avulso non deficit alter." May they continue then to act against those who, in scorn of all law, force me to die far from my country.

Tomorrow I shall be a dead man. Today I have nothing for which to reproach myself. All my life I have done my duty, and nothing but my duty. My death is no shame to myself, but it is a shame to my proscribers, to those who have sought to brand a loyal soldier by the judgment of a political tribunal. I desire to recall the fact that many a time I have offered to constitute myself a prisoner, if they would accord me common law judges. The holders of power in France have always refused this request, and thus an acquittal was made impossible.

In quitting life I have but one regret, and that is I have not died on the field of battle, fighting for my country. That country will at least permit one of its children, at the moment of returning into nothingness, to recall himself to the memory of all lovers of the "patrie." Vive France. Vive republique. Done and signed under my hand on the eve of the day of my death.

EARNST BOULANGER.

GHOSTLY TRANSACTIONS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.—A Shanghai letter says: The people of Yue Yeh, in district of Shaoehsing, have been greatly excited lately owing to the discovery that some miscreants had been opening graves and carrying off bodies. Three men and a boy have been caught at this ghastly work. The men were in a boat, and being strangers in the district, were ordered to stop by some of the people, who had formed themselves into a vigilance committee.

The men proceeded, throwing overboard a number of bags. They were pursued, and finding themselves overtaken jumped overboard. Finally they were captured and some of the bags were fished up and found to contain dead men's bodies, upon which the country people stoned the three men to death. The boy was brought before the authorities for trial, when he confessed that he and the men were hired by other men to break open graves and steal the bones, for which they were paid $300 a boat load. What they wanted the bones for is a mystery.

IMMENSE WHEAT CROP.

DULUTH, Oct. 2.—Wednesday night ended the first thirty days of the crop year of 1891, and there has been handled here in that time almost as much wheat as was received during the entire twelve months of the year just preceding. The figures stand as follows: Crop year of 1890, receipts, 18,203,504 bushels; shipments, 16,132,729 bushels. September, 1891, receipts, 8,132,611 bushels; shipments, 6,304,092 bushels.

This month has been by 2,400,000 bushels the largest ever known here in receipts of wheat. It has also beaten the record in shipments by 1,900,000 bushels.

The records of former years, especially when crops have been good, show October and November to have exceeded September in business. It is therefore safe to put the receipts of wheat on the Duluth board of trade for the three months before the close of navigation at 25,000,000 bushels.

Gravel Train Wrecked.

DAYTON, O., Oct. 2.—A gravel train on the Cincinnati division of the Big Four, backed into a handcar near Carrollton station at 5:30 yesterday evening. The caboose became detached and rolled down an embankment, while thirteen loaded gravel cars piled on top of each other. Conductor Samuel Morris, of Mechanicsburg, O., who was on top of the caboose when it went over, was instantly killed, his body being horribly crushed. Seven workmen inside the caboose were seriously but not fatally injured. They were brought to the hospital in this city. Their names are John Flanigan, Frank Kershner, Terry McCormick, Michal Pender, John O'Neill, William White and James Frazier.

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—President Hart, of the Chicago ball club, yesterday received a dispatch from President Young stating that he asked President Soden, of the Boston club, to forward evidence as to the four double protested games. The case is now in the hands of the league and if necessary a meeting of the directors will be called to take action upon the matter.

BIG STRIKES BEGUN.

Ten Thousand Miners Quit Work.

THOUSANDS MORE TO FOLLOW.

A General Strike Probable in All the Mines in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois—Over a Thousand Job Printers Quit Work at Pittsburg and Allegheny—Other Labor News.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 1.—A general strike of railroad coal miners of the Pittsburg district was inaugurated yesterday in accordance with the action taken at Wednesday's convention. Reports have not been received from all the mines, but it is estimated that close on to 10,000 men quit work and all the railroad mines have ceased operation. They are firm for the three and one-half cent rate, and assert that they will remain out until it is conceded by the operators. A long and bitter struggle is probable.

The miners' national executive committee has returned to Columbus, O., and is in session in that city, considering, it is stated, on reliable authority, plans for a general demand for increased wages in all mines in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. The demands, it is said, will be presented to the coal operators in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois within a few days.

United Mine Workers.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 2.—There was a sensational turn at the meeting of the executive board of United Mine Workers in session here Thursday and it is not improbable that the great eight-hour strike postponed last spring may be inaugurated. Telegrams were sent out at noon notifying all district presidents of mine workers to come to Columbus for a conference on Saturday. This is considered by the miners a more opportune time to enforce the demands for eight hours than the date previously set in May, from the fact that there is an increased demand for coal.

Met the Knights Half Way.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 2.—The trouble between the Anheuser-Busch Brewing company, and the Knights of Labor has been finally settled. The trouble grew out of the refusal of the company to discharge non-union employees. The company met the knights half way. They agreed not to discriminate against the union men, and will endeavor to have all the men join the union.

Glass Workers' Troubles Settled.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 2.—The difficulty which has existed between the window glass workers and the manufacturers of the eastern district of the National Window Glass Workers' association since July 1 has been settled on the basis of last year's scale.

One Thousand Printers Strike.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 2.—The journeymen job printers of Pittsburg and Allegheny have struck for seven and a half cents increase and shorter hours. About 1,000 men are out, and nearly all the job offices have shut down.

RIDDLED WITH BULLETS.

MEMPHIS, Oct. 2.—Ten of the Lee county, Ark., negro rioters were riddled with bullets Wednesday, news of the tragedy having only just reached here. Ever since the shooting of Over-seer Mills the citizens of the neighborhood have been in a state of excitement, and the affair of Wednesday was the culmination.

Tuesday night Ben Patterson, leader of the colored rioters, who had been badly wounded, was put on board a steamer in charge of a deputy sheriff. At Hacker's landing fifteen men armed with Winchesters boarded it and demanded Patterson. The trembling wretch was carried ashore, and as the boat left a volley from the Winchester told the story of his fate. His slayers then struck out across the country to intercept Sheriff Derrick, who was known to be proceeding to Marianna jail with nine fugitive cotton pickers. These were met a mile or so inland and the crowd took the nine negroes from their guards, took them to an open spot in the woods and mercilessly shot them down. The feeling is intensely bitter against J. F. Frank, on whose plantation the trouble occurred.

OUR TROUBLE WITH CHILI.

Minister Egan Having a Lively Time of it in That Country.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—The Herald's Valparaiso dispatch gives further particulars of the trouble between the authorities at Santiago and Minister Egan. It appears that the legations and the vicinity were watched by the police during all of last week. Last Friday three men named Hillman, Madden and Rayprast, who had business at the legation, were arrested just after leaving that place.

They were retained in prison but a short time, however. In addition to this, two of Minister Egan's servants were arrested and kept there for two days. Irresponsible officials caused the trouble. The vigorous protest from Minister Egan made the junta withdraw its police. Commodore Schley, of the Baltimore, which still lies in the harbor of Valparaiso, is now at Santiago in conference with Minister Egan.

Barn Burned by Incendiary.

COLUMBUS, Ind., Oct. 1.—The large frame barn of John Walker, six miles south of this city, was set on fire by an incendiary at 8 o'clock yesterday morning, and burned to the ground. It was filled with grain and agricultural implements, which were consumed. Two valuable mules were burned to death.

ALL FOR ERIN.

Opening Session of the Great Irish-American Congress.

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—Possibly the most important public gathering of the Irish race ever held this side of the Atlantic began here Thursday. It was the convention of the Irish National League of America and of societies and individuals throughout the United States and Canada in sympathy with that organization.

Central Music hall, which has witnessed many a stirring historic scene in the Irish movement for nationhood, looked down upon scores of unmistakably Celtic faces aglow with anticipation of what might prove the stormiest and most significant proceedings yet witnessed by their countrymen in a grave national crisis. The assembling of the delegates here, simultaneously with the great conference of Gladstone's adherents at New Castle, England, preparatory to a general election in Great Britain, was remarked by many as something more than a coincidence.

The first incident attracting general attention was an outbreak of hearty cheering which greeted the appearance on the stage of Dr. Thomas O'Reilly, of St. Louis. Hearty applause quickly followed as other celebrities in Irish-American circles such as M. V. Gannon, of Omaha, and Judge James Fitzgerald, of Cincinnati, loomed into view.

Secretary John P. Sutton caused a sensation at the very outset. He had called the convention to order and when the cheering greeting his appearance had subsided, he proceeded to read the call, expressing regret at the absence of President John Fitzgerald and Vice President Patrick Martin, of Baltimore.

Secretary Sutton said the delegates had come at their own expense in spite of a hostile public opinion, created by men he was sorry from his heart to say were Irishmen, but he urged them to think only of their holy cause, and put it at once, as it should be, on a business basis.

O'Neill Ryan, of St. Louis, was introduced as the temporary chairman of the convention, and he promptly launched into a ringing address foreshadowing the policy of the gathering.

It was not until after 8 o'clock that the committee on credentials came in with its report. This document informed the 250 delegates in attendance, and fully one-half of whom were Chicagoans, that credentials for 500 people had been handed in and that the states of Illinois, Nebraska, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Wisconsin, Missouri, Michigan, Colorado, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Tennessee, Maryland, New York, Georgia, Kansas, Louisiana, as well as the District of Columbia and Canada, were legally represented. This report was accepted with a roar of applause.

The temporary organization was made permanent after M. B. Gannon, of Iowa, had declined a nomination for the chairmanship; and then there was a lengthy debate regarding the appointment of committees on resolution, finance and constitution. Some of the delegates wanted the committees appointed by the chair, but against this an earnest protest was raised. Delegate Sharon, of Iowa, who led the objectors, declared that the actions of the convention would have to be above suspicion. The very existence of the organization was involved, and the committees should not only be selected by the delegates themselves, but should represent every conflicting opinion regarding the present condition of affairs in Ireland. Finally after several votes this view prevailed, and the state delegations went into caucus to name their committeemen. This process consumed the balance of the afternoon, and a recess was taken until 10 on Friday morning.

DENMARK'S DECREE

Removing the Prohibition on Our Pork Received at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—The state department has received from Mr. Ingerslev, Danish minister of the interior, a copy of a decree removing the prohibition on American pork imported into Denmark. The decree reads:

The prohibition notified in the decree of the minister of the interior of March 10, 1888, against the importation into this country from the United States of North America of pork and unmanufactured swine products, including swine bladders and unpurified steam lard, is hereby withdrawn as regards those products which are furnished with certificates under the hands of the proper authorities to the effect that the article in question before leaving the United States, has been subjected to an examination in compliance with the legislation in force in the states and has been declared as such examination to be found untainted, sound and fit for human food. This decree takes effect at once.

Boy Mysteriously Missing.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 2.—Frank, the fifteen-year-old son of Herman Harmoning, a well known German, has been absent from his home since Monday morning. As the boy had no cause whatever for staying away, his home being one of the most pleasant and comfortable, his failure to appear cannot be explained. It is feared an accident has befallen him, or he has been foully dealt with, but as he had no money nor superfluous clothing, the latter theory is unfounded. The boy's father and sister—his mother being dead—are greatly distressed and earnestly solicit information at 445 North East street.

Typhoid Fever in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—The News says typhoid fever has been more or less prevalent in some sections of the city for many months, in fact it is never wholly absent. Recently it has assumed an epidemic form, and is so prevalent that physicians and nurses have no time to be interviewed, and cases are crowding into hospitals in large numbers. A general and wide distribution of cases throughout the city plainly indicates the origin of the germs in the water coming from the lake.

EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1891.

The census shows that the wealth of Ohio, has increased $243,000,000 since 1880, while farm lands in that State have actually decreased, in that time to $98,000,000. This fact, Governor Campbell keeps constantly before the people in the present campaign. It does not require any very hard thinking to find the cause. Taxing the masses for the benefit of the classes explains all.

The Republican papers in Ohio and elsewhere are making a great point of Campbell's financial embarrassment. What if the Governor is poor? Is that any disgrace? If so, he has enough company to keep him from feeling it. If he is in somewhat straitened circumstances it is nobody's business but Governor Campbell's and his creditors.

The Republican managers have been advised to avoid a personal fight against Mr. Campbell, as it might prove to be a wicked boomerang and work mischief, and that's just what it is already proving in this case.

"A Pair of Jacks."

"A Pair of Jacks" is a new farce comedy by H. Grattan Donnelly, author of "Natural Gas" and "Later On." The dialogue of "A Pair of Jacks" is said to possess more literary merit than is usually found in farce comedies. It is sparklingly witty and, without plot or play, would of itself be exceedingly enjoyable. The story of "A Pair of Jacks," though, is interesting and well told. The incidents follow each other with a rush, and there is a "go" to the piece that is irresistible. The vivacity of the play is really catching. The situations are exceedingly ludicrous, and there is a whirl of fun accompanying the performance that is refreshing and health-promoting, says an exchange. At the opera house next Wednesday night.

NOTES AND PERSONALS BY J. B. H.

Miss Vansant, of Elizaville; Miss Brown, of Shannon, and Miss Nancie Bland, of Sardis, were among the pretty girls present.

Madison Worthington, Dr. A. H. Wall and Dr. J. M. Blackerby are still in the land of the living, original charter members, hale and hearty.

The Farmers' National Bank of Augusta will give a $5 premium to the best looking boy baby under two years old, to be shown Saturday. The Bracken Chronicle will give same amount for the prettiest girl baby, shown same day.

In October, 1855, J. B. Herndon wrote the first letter ever penned from Germantown to a newspaper, acquainting the outside world with the notable events of the then young and growing agricultural society of Mason and Bracken.

Editor Zoller, of the semi-occasional Olivet Tribune-Democrat, was introducing Hon. Winfield Buckler, who is candidating this Judicial district for Circuit Judge. The public were favorably impressed with the new candidate.

Evan Lloyd and B. D. Owens were out representing the original charter members. Col. Owens captured all the tube roses that the widows sent to Herndon, much to the latter's chagrin. The rivalry between these veteran widowers was close and hotly contested.

Amos Turney, of Bourbon; Dr. Hall, of Mason; Ed. Myall, Matt Pearce, D. Frazee, Will Pepper, B. A. Wallingford, of Maysville; Mr. and Mrs. John Tilton, of Bourbon, with Mrs. J. D. Dye, of Maysville; Duke Watson and G. Kilpatrick, Shannon; Ben Wood and G. W. Dye, of Sardis, were among the visitors.

Washington City was represented by a very distinguished party—Judge and Mrs. Johnston, parents of "Marie Decca," Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Johnston and daughter, Miss Frances B. Mlle. Decca sent her regrets to the gallant batchelor Secretary of the fair that on account of her engagement at Portsmouth it was impracticable for her to visit the old home fair. She said her enforced absence nearly broke her heart. If Jenny Lind deserved to be classed as the Angelic Swede, Marie Decca should be called the Celestial Kentuckienne.

GERMANTOWN FAIR.

It has been industriously circulated in many localities by some idle or evil-minded person that, on account of the prevalence of "black tongue" in this community, the Germantown fair would not be held this season. There is no "black tongue" in this locality, or any other alarming or contagious disease among men or horses, and the report is altogether false.

The "old reliable" is recognized everywhere as the best fair in the State, and is just now on the top wave of prosperity. We anticipate the largest fair held for years. J. A. WALTON, Sec'y.

We, the undersigned, physicians residing in Germantown, Ky., do hereby certify to the correctness of the above statement. Dr. E. C. DIMMITT, Dr. J. C. BROWNING, V. S., Dr. J. M. BLACKERBY, Dr. CHAS. S. SAVAGE.

Here and There.

One of the great powers in advertising is that it produces the results immediately. Twenty salesmen traveling widely and working industriously can not accomplish in a year what a good advertising agent could bring about by the insertion of one week's advertising.

THE MARKETS.

Cincinnati Tobacco Market.

(Wednesday.)

The offerings were large and there is no marked change to note in the market from yesterday. The number of hogheads of good to fine leaf on sale was small, and the same active demand noted heretofore prevailed and full prices are paid. The same can be said of colony trash and lugs. Common and medium leaf holds without change, buyers not giving this kind close attention. The demand for common trash and lugs is fair at prices of the previous day. Of the 871 bbls. 132 sold from $1 to $3.90, 240 from $4 to $5.50, 153 from $6 to $7.90, 112 from $8 to $9.50, 150 from $10 to $14.75, 69 from $15 to $19.75 and 15 from $20 to $24.75.

The Committee on Laws and Ordinances and Committee on Licenses were granted one month's further time to report an ordinance regulating licenses. The Committee on Alms recommended that Mrs. Fitzsimmons, Mrs. Anna Green and Mrs. Ryan be dropped from the "pauper" list, and that the law be enforced on all other paupers outside of the alms house. A division of the question was called for, and the parties named were dropped from the list. There was a difference of opinion as to the rest of the committee's recommendation. Some thought the Council ought to have the right to contract for the support of paupers outside of the alms house where money could be saved thereby. The city has been paying about $115 a month for the support of paupers outside of the alms house. The matter was referred to the Committee on Laws and Ordinances. The addition to the alms house was reported completed. George N. Crawford was granted permission to build an addition to his blacksmith shop on Second street. William Spromberg was granted permission to erect a two-story frame residence on Commerce street. C. A. Richmond was granted permission to build an addition to his house on West Third street. Omar Dodson was granted permission to build a stable on the rear of his lot on the north side of Second street, between Market and Limestone. Judge Thomas R. Phister, appeared for the Maysville Fuel, Light and Steel Company and presented an ordinance granting said company the right and privilege of furnishing fuel gas to the people of Maysville. The ordinance was received and referred to the Committee on Laws and Ordinances to report at next meeting. The company is to commence the work of laying mains in sixty days after all arrangements with the city are made and is given until December, 1892, to complete said work of piping the city. Gas for fuel purposes is to be furnished to consumers at a rate not exceeding 50 cents per 1,000 cubic feet, which the company claims will be cheaper than coal. The property-owners and residents on Lindsay street petitioned to have said street macadamized. The matter was referred to the Committee on Internal Improvements to ascertain the cost and report at next meeting.

 The following officers of registration were appointed:
 First Ward—Jos. Lowry, clerk; R. R. Frost, sheriff; W. H. Campbell and Samuel McNutt, judges.
 Second Ward—W. D. Hixson, clerk; James Rains, sheriff; Jas. S. Redmond and B. P. McClanahan, judges.
 Fourth Ward—James Wallace, clerk; Wm. Lally, sheriff; Samuel Creekbaum and H. M. King, judges.
 When this appointing of these officers was called up, it was brought out that the law said they should be appointed between the 1st and 15th of October. Yesterday was the first and that question was raised whether it would be complying with the law to make the appointments last night. It was decided to take the risk.
 The Ways and Means Committee was authorized to borrow $2,000 for current expenses.
 Mr. Fitzgerald brought up the lottery question, and wanted to know if their wasn't some way of getting rid of the one on Front street. The matter had been investigated and it was stated that council could do nothing at present. The prevailing sentiment was in favor of placing the license so high that no one could afford to pay it. The matter was referred to the proper committee.
 Mayor Pearce recommended C. D. Newell for City Prosecutor, and his action was unanimously ratified.
 The City Marshal was instructed to have side-walks put down on Commerce, Lexington and Poplar streets.
 Council then adjourned.
 Next Sunday the sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered at the Central Presbyterian Church. Preparatory services thereto will be held to-night at 7:30 and to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. All are invited. The members are urged to attend.
 The marriage of Miss Tillie Altmeyer to Mr. Frank Burgoyne was solemnized yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the residence of the bride on West Second street, Rev. W. J. E. Cox, pastor of the Baptist church officiating. The ceremony was a very beautiful and impressive one. Only the relatives and a few friends of the family were present. The happy couple left on the F. F. V. for Louisville, to be gone a week or so. May their future be as bright as their wedding day, is the wish of their many friends.

MINER'S MAXIMS! THERE'S QUITE A DISTINCTION between Getting What You Want and Wanting What You Get. There's some satisfaction in selling Shoes that give satisfac- tion. You may not go into ec- stasies when you get what you want—that's a matter of tem- perament; but there's apt to be music in the air when you don't want what you get. To say that there's fifty ways of selling Shoes doesn't begin to state the case; there are more ways than can be counted. All the same there is only one right way, and that is to make the value given proportionate to the value received. Here's a simple statement of a simple case: Miner keeps Shoes of every grade known to the trade, from the highly polished dainty maximum to the ordi- nary but equally serviceable minimum. He doesn't keep his performances a mile behind his promises. No matter what you pay for what you choose, you get not a cent less than a dollar's worth for a dollar. It is human to err, but you're not within shoot- ing distance of a blunder when you buy Shoes from

ABOUT EMIGRATION.

Our Condition Superior to Other Countries.

OPINIONS OF FOREIGN PEOPLE.

What Our United States Commissioners Across the Atlantic Have to Say on the Subject—A Voluminous Report Expected From Them in the Near Future. Other Foreign News on Different Subjects.

BERLIN, Oct. 2.—Colonel John S. Weber and Dr. Walter Kemster, the United States commissioners who are inquiring into the emigration question in Europe, have left here for Bremen in order to take part in the conference of steamship company representatives which is to take place there. In an interview with Colonel Weber and Dr. Kemster those two gentlemen said that for the past month or so they had been staying in Russia, and that they found that the conditions affecting emigration there were of such a grave and peculiar character that they did not feel warranted in speaking upon them except in the form of an official report which would be accompanied by a corroborative evidence, without which the statements which they had to make might be regarded as incredible. The commissioners have been personally hearing the views of people competent to express an opinion upon the subject, and also examining certain districts in regard to crop prospects. They saw sufficient to prove to them that the cold weather and rain had seriously injured all the crops, and that a period of great distress was certain. In this respect, they said, the newspaper reports on the circumstances did not appear to be overdrawn.

In other parts of Europe the commissioners found that immigration had only assumed normal proportions. The principal causes for desiring to emigrate are, besides the desire to better their condition, the chief burdens complained of in many parts of Europe, namely, compulsory military service, excessive taxation, low wages and information as to the superior condition of the United States, derived almost entirely from relatives and friends who have already emigrated.

Attempted to Kill the Emperor.

VIENNA, Oct. 2.—The commission of inquiry relative to the bombs found at the Rosenthal railroad bridge, shortly before the arrival of the train containing the Emperor Francis Joseph, has discovered that thirteen bombs were deposited there with the apparent object of destroying the imperial train. The sensation caused is very great, and the people of Vienna are preparing a grand demonstration of loyalty for the kaiser's return.

Unknown Schooner Lost.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—An unknown schooner was lost in a gale off Lands End. The life saving crew refused to go out and a volunteer crew of seaside visitors went out and it was feared that they were lost, but in the morning they arrived at St. Ives after a frightful experience. They received much laudation.

Republican Movement.

MADRID, Oct. 2.—A conspiracy has been discovered at Barcelona to surprise the guard of the prison, liberate all the prisoners, and then proclaim a republic. A major, accused of being at the head of the movement, an apothecary and an innkeeper have been arrested.

Mine Accident.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—A dispatch from Bridgend, Glamorgan county, Wales, reports the killing of eight miners by the overwinding of the pit gear at the Aborgwni colliery, near that place.

FIRES IN CHICAGO.

Leather Establishment and Lumber Yards Burned.

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—Fire at 2 o'clock yesterday morning in Kellogg & McCauley's leather establishment, 62 Canal street, damaged property to the amount of $50,000 or $75,000.

Fifty guests of the Washington hotel, adjoining, were dragged from their beds, and ran down to the office in their night clothing. The hotel, however, escaped with a slight scorching.

Another fire in the lumber district did damage to the extent of $100,000. The principal losses were on O. L. Hotchkiss' sash and blind factory. Mr. Hotchkiss was severely burned while trying to save some horses in a shed behind the factory.

Harvey M. Watterson Dead.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 2.—Hon. Harvey M. Watterson, father of Henry Watterson, died last night in this city at 10:30 o'clock. He was born in Bedford county, Tenn., Nov. 23, 1811. In 1839 he succeeded James K. Polk in the Twenty-sixth congress, and was the only surviving member of that body. He served in the Twenty-seventh and Twenty-eighth congresses, and in 1843 was sent by President Tyler to South America on an important diplomatic mission. He declined office at the hands of Presidents Pierce, Buchanan and Johnson. He was a strong Union man during the late war.

Wealthy Pioneer Gone.

TIPTON, Ind., Oct. 2.—Levi Ilges, one of the oldest pioneers of Tipton county, who resided about five miles south of this city, died last night of congestion of the stomach, after an illness of eight hours. Mr. Ilges was a prominent and wealthy farmer. He was about eighty years of age.

Frost in Massachusetts.

SOUTH FRAMINGHAM, Mass., Oct. 2.—The first frost of the autumn visited central sections of the state last night doing some damage to squashes, tomatoes, corn and other crops. It extended over quite a large area.

Fatally Injured in a Cane Rush.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Oct. 2.—W. A. Caldwell, a student of St. Louis, was badly hurt in a cane rush here last Saturday and it is thought he cannot live. He is suffering from peritonitis.

AFTER TEN DOLLARS.

BROWNSVILLE, Ind., Oct. 2.—An individual representing himself as an agent for a wholesale supply house of St. Louis is canvassing towns in this vicinity for the establishment of so-called Alliance stores. He arranges with any person who will advance $10 to set him up in business; the firm sending any goods he desires, such as groceries, wagons, whisky, etc.

He requires no security, and it is the arrangement that the firm's goods are to be sold cheaper than they can be had at wholesale; the seller retaining 25 per cent. of the receipts and forwarding the remainder to the St. Louis house. The agent also represents that a concert company will be along in a few days and furnish free music to the store when it opens. W. S. Hopkins, of this city, paid him $10, and a similar amount was paid by Lizton, Pittsboro and Jamestown parties.

Important Railroad Deal.

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—The Mackey system of southern Illinois and Indiana roads is reported to have purchased the Kentucky and Indiana bridge over the Ohio river between New Albany and Louisville, with all its terminals and equipments, including the suburban lines, yards and shops at Louisville, the New Albany street railroad and equipments, and the New Albany and Port and ferry line, franchises and boats, and the New Albany belt and terminal roads. The property is capitalized for $4,600,000, and in the deal President Mackey obtains 51 per cent. of the stock. He guarantees $127,000 interest per annum on bonds and a 4 per cent. dividend on stock, $86,000, giving a total of fixed charges guaranteed of $213,000 per year.

German Evangelical Conference.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 2.—The German Evangelical conference entered upon its work yesterday with addresses from Bishops Esper and Bowman, in which both referred to the troubles in the church. Bishop Bowman reviewed the history of the church rebellion, which he compared to the rebellion which brought about the civil war, and said that the minority was despotic in itself, as it sought to rule an overwhelming majority. He said that the church had been prosperous notwithstanding the desertions, and had done well in every branch. The roll of delegates was then called and the regular committees were appointed.

DANVILLE, Ind., Oct. 2.—The earthquake left evidences of its action in this section, and the people of Fillmore are terribly frightened. Near Fetrow's grist mill a hole has appeared in the ground, eight feet square, without bottom, so far as known, and filled with water. It is the objective point for hundreds of visitors.

Threatened with Lynching.

PORTSMOUTH, O., Oct. 2.—The rumor of an attempt to lynch Frank Colley for the cold-blooded murder of John Finn, which occurred several days ago near Peebles, reached the ear of Sheriff Gustin Wednesday night. Colley was taken to Adams county by Sheriff McManes early Thursday morning for safekeeping.

Conductor Run Over and Killed.

BELLAIRE, O., Oct. 2.—McClelland Newell, a conductor on the Bellaire, Zanesville and Cincinnati road, was run over and killed at Mount Ephraim, near Summerfield, last night. Newell slipped from a car, falling directly in front of a backing engine, and was cut to pieces.

Accidentally Shot Herself.

MARTIN'S FERRY, O., Oct. 2.—Alice Williams, a sixteen-year-old girl, and daughter of one of the leading citizens of this place, was accidentally shot last night while carelessly handling her brother's revolver, the ball going clear through her body. She is still living.

Fair Ground Stables Burned.

HAMILTON, O., Oct. 2.—At noon yesterday the Butler county fair ground stables were set on fire by some unknown man and 400 feet of buildings were burned to the ground. They were fully insured. Several trees caught fire and the squirrels on them were roasted alive. The fire will not interfere with the big fair next week, although it is a serious loss.

OBITUARY.

[Friendship's tribute to the memory of Mary E. Bannon. "A life well spent is old age."] O angelus bell, your eventide pealing, Will ever awake sad echoes of pain In hearts that must throb in sorrow unhealing, When touched by the voice of mem'ry's refrain.

For softly at eve a tremulous whisper Broke low on the heart that waited so long; "Arise, faithful soul, the heavenly vesper Awaits even now, thy spirit's glad song."

And gently, as ebbs some deep flowing river, Whose tide lightly laves the echoes shore, Her spirit in joy sped back to its giver, To rest in His love, secure evermore.

We weep, but the heart whose every pulsation Awoke into life some message of love, Athrill with a last divine inspiration, Directed our thoughts to heaven above.

O friend of the heart so valiant and gifted, Great soul so richly endowed in grace, We mourn, and, with hearts to heaven uplifted, Still yearn for the smile on thy kindly face.

Tho' down the dark valley shadows close 'round thee, And veil from our eyes the light of thy life, In heaven we know the Savior has crowned thee A victor supreme in the world's weary strife.
